"Ten years!" he said. She unzips a waterproof pocket on her right sleeve and pulls out a fresh pack of cigarettes. He takes one, lights it, takes a long drag and says, "Oh, that's good!"

Then the woman asks, "How long has it been since you've had a drink?" Trembling, the man says, "Ten long years!" The woman unzips her waterproof pocket on her left sleeve, pulls out a flask of fine French cognac and gives it to him. The man takes a long swig and says, "Man, that's sweet!"

The woman then starts slowly unzipping the front of her wet suit, looks at him seductively and asks, "And how long has it been since you've played around?"

The man, with tears in his eyes, replies, "Oh sweet mother of God! Don't tell me you've got golf clubs in there"?!

The Physical Therapist

A couple of women were playing golf one sunny Saturday morning. The first of the twosome teed off and watched in horror as her ball headed directly toward a foursome of men playing the next hole.

Indeed, the ball hit one of the men, and he immediately clasped his hands together at his crotch, fell to the ground and proceeded to roll around in evident agony.

The woman rushed down to the man and immediately began to apologize. She explained that she was a physical therapist: "Please allow me to help", she offered. "I'm a physical therapist and I know I could relieve your pain if you'd allow me", she told him earnestly.

"Ummph, oooh, nooo, I'll be alright...I'll be fine in a few minutes", he replied breathlessly as he remained in the foetal position still clasping his hands together at his crotch. But she persisted, and he finally allowed her to help him. She gently took his hands away and laid them to the side, she loosened his pants, and she put her hands inside. She began to massage him. She then asked him: "Does that feel better"? To which he replied: "It feels great, but my thumb still hurts like hell!"

A couple had been married for fifteen years. There was only one thing that Ruthie had forbidden her husband to do. That was to open a small silver box that was kept upon her dresser.

One day the husband was cleaning the mirror above Ruthie's dresser and accidentally knocked the silver box to the floor. Out spilled six golf balls and a thick wad of cash. The husband was bemused. He counted the cash which totalled $25,000. Shocked, but controlled, he put it all back. At dinner he apologised to Ruthie for the accident and asked what it all meant. Ruthie said that each time she cheated on him she put a golf ball into the box.

He thought. He then said, "We have been through good times and bad, six times you drifted in fifteen years. I can forgive that but why all the cash? Where did the cash come from?"

Ruthie replied, "Oh the cash!? You see my dear, each time I had a dozen golf balls, I sold them for $10."

Finally, one of the others has to ask him, "How do you decide whether to play left or right handed on a particular day?" The reply was, "I take a look at which side my wife is sleeping on when I get up and that's the hand I play that day".

Of course, that day, the wife could not get a good shot, and lost the game to her husband for the first time in their married life.

The next day, the wife decides it is also time to be true to her husband. As he was ready to tee off she says, "Honey, since you were so true to me yesterday, I feel obliged to do the same. Before we met, I was a man". Well you can imagine the husband's golf that day!

This was too much for the poor man, and he asked her "Lady, what is going on? First you feed me a delicious meal, and as if that isn't enough, you invite me to make love to you and we have a terrific time together. Now you want to pay me?! What IS this, anyway?" So she explained proudly, "Well, you know Christmas is coming, and I told my husband I wanted to do something nice for my caddy that is so faithful and helped me so much this year".

My husband said, "Screw the caddy! Give him a dollar!" The lunch was my idea!"

but walked fast between shots. On the last hole the young man pulled his drive and it went into the rough behind a 20 foot tall tree.

He suggested he would have to punch it out until the senior said "When I was your age I could hit it over the top of that tree". Not to deny a challenge the young man took out a 7 iron, lined up, took a hefty swing, and sure enough the ball hit the top of the tree and fell back at his feet.

"Well," said the policeman very seriously, "Your ball flew out onto the highway and crashed through a driver's windshield. The car went out of control, crashing into five other cars and a fire truck. ## 20 LAWS OF GOLF:

LAW 1: No matter how bad your last shot was, the worst is yet to come. This law does not expire on the 18th hole, since it has the supernatural tendency to extend over the course of a tournament, a summer and, eventually, a lifetime.

LAW 2: Your best round of golf will be followed almost immediately by your worst round ever. The probability of the latter increases with the number of people you tell about the former.

LAW 3: Brand new golf balls are water-magnetic. Though this cannot be proven in the lab, it is a known fact that the more expensive the golf ball, the greater its attraction to water.

LAW 4: Golf balls never bounce off of trees back into play. If one does, the tree is breaking a law of the universe and should be cut down.

LAW 5: No matter what causes a golfer to muff a shot, all his playing partners must solemnly chant "You looked up," or invoke the wrath of the universe.

LAW 6: The higher a golfer's handicap, the more qualified he deems himself as an instructor.

LAW 7: Every par-three hole in the world has a secret desire to humiliate golfers. The shorter the hole, the greater its desire.

LAW 8: Topping a 3-iron is the most painful torture known to man.

LAW 9: Palm trees eat golf balls.

LAW 10: Sand is alive. If it isn't, how do you explain the way it works against you?
